JEROME DAVIS, ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Burning Coal's founding artistic director and 2019 Raleigh Medal of Arts Award winner is well known for directing the works of renowned British and Irish playwrights like Tom Stoppard, David Edgar, David Hare, Conor McPherson and Benjamin Britten. He leads the tour to the greatest theatre city in the world, the source of much of the inspiration for Burning Coal. Additional Coal staff members participate.

EDUCATIONAL AND ENTERTAINING

The tour is designed for the avid art lover. We recognize our guests as members of an artistic community, eager for stimulating, thought-provoking discussion. We also know you'll want ample time on your own to explore the London most interesting to you.

Teachers may be eligible to obtain professional development credit for participating. Educational materials can be provided. Contact coalartisticdir@ncrbiz.com for details.

COME ALONG!

$2,950 per person, double occupancy, or $2,200 bring your own airfare. Add $600 to either for single room supplement. $700 deposit is required by 12/1/2019. To reserve or for more information:
